

I believe this bill NEEDS to be passed because people are complaining about animals becoming extinct but no one is trying to stop it. no one wants to kill an innocent creature for education...unless your the teacher but there really is not anything you get out of it education wise. Why do we need to cut up o frog to see where all his personal parts are? We only need that info if the whole class is becoming a vet....and i wanteed to become a vet when i was five.This bill needs to be passed there is no reason a student has to cut open any animal for education.

Kali K. - CT